

California Voter Registration Is Ripe For Fraud

California voter registration is ripe for fraud. It's possible to register without giving a driver's license number, a Social Security number (last 4 digits) or a home address. Rather than a long description of the process and its flaws, I put together a short video. Enjoy and let me know if you find any mistakes.