

Why I Oppose the “Tik-Tok Ban” Bill

I think the most interesting of the five parts “Then, the “technical structure” of the bill reportedly received from the White House is less than ideal. Look past a few highlighted portions, and you’ll see the bill is not so good.

...and, are “critical, defense applications, public applications or significant private technology applications” that is “determined by the President to pose a threat to the national security of the United States” is covered.

Thanks to Matt Taibbi for wading through this swamp. What’s really in the “Tin-Tok Ban” bill? Many things that I don’t like.
